

Indiana Wesleyan University
Articulation Agreements and Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) with Other Institutions

Indiana Wesleyan University has credit-transfer articulation agreements and MOUs with the schools listed below. Generally speaking, an MOU is a formal agreement between the two schools that assures that the transfer of credit policies published in the IWU catalog apply to students transferring between the two schools. An articulation agreement defines a special transfer or credit sharing pathway between the institutions. Both arrangements certify that the partner institution is a school of appropriate quality and simplify the process for students who wish to transfer credits to IWU. The details of any of the individual agreements are available from the IWU Office of Institutional Research at institutional.research@indwes.edu.
